BROTHERS WOODS IN WINNING FORM.

Young Jockeys Won Four Out of Seven Races at the Fair Grounds.

FINISH. BRIDGETON'S HARD

Tom Hurn's Horse Made Quite a Run in the Stretch-Pirate of Penzance Has Winners.

Mr. J. T. J. Woods, father of Jockeys J. and J. T. Woods, and Pirate of Penzance, sire of Wild Pirate, Malay and Wall, monopolized honors at the Fair Grounds yesterday. J. Woods wen three races and J. T. Woods one. J. Woods was second in one and J. T. Woods was second in one and third in one. The first four races on the eard went to the Woods family.

Then came Pirate of Penzance with all three of his get entered in the money, Wild Pirate and Malay won races at good prices, and Wall would have won when he ran third had he gotten off well and been waked up at the start. Indeed, it was quite a day for Mr. Woods and Pirate of Penzance.

Then Necklace won a race in tidy fash ton, which, on her last out, she had no business winning. Wonderful how race horses meddle in other race horses' pusiness. It looked like Free Lady's race, but when Dominick gets off bad tear up your ticket. The Lady got the worst of the break and was beaten when the flag fell. Van Dusen could not ride Graves right, or he might have won.

For once Crowburst and Laureate got the worst of their rail-riding tactics, Crowburst has been hanging the old horse up on the fence and letting him skate on his car like a cash basket on the trolley of a dry goods store. He was on the pole all the way yesterday. Though it was a small field, the riding was hard and tight. No loose bricks in the flying wall of horseffesh for Van to shove the equine mole through. Malay, Haviland and Janish pocketed the little chestnut tight as two dimes in a farmer s him outside. He could not give the dis-tance and do the work. Even had he taken his usual slide on the rail, he would hardly have copped, for Malay was gang to the races. It looked like a bit too tar for Hav-iand. Jim Ghie had a fit in the third race, when Jim Ghio had a fit in the third race, when his Orris was out a mile in front and Bridgeton nowhere. Orris had Dominick up and was going like a wild wolf. Bridgeton was full of run, but in a tight place, and the rest were not moving. Into the stretch "Skip One," which was Jonesey's sweet way of jaentifying Orris, had four open lengths between her and the rest. Then old Bridgeton made a center buck and broke through. Settling down he went after her. She quit. The old horse wan in a gallop at the end.

Dominick was very bungy on Obia—did not half ride her, in fact. She was off well, in well, going well, gone well, but the Goose Hill expressman was not in form. She had three lengths the best of Wild Pirate at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but he raced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her aced over her at the stretch turn, but her at the stretch

J. Woods was not at his best on Grantor, He could not get the horse going soon enough. Dominick gave Apple Jack a solid hustling down to the wire and made Hi-Koller shut up so fast that his backbone buckled when he put the brakes on Same ay that horse will apply the air so sudden-y that he will give himself a flat wheel day that horse will apply the air so suddenly that he will give himself a fist wheel.

Grantor rushed hard at the end, but could not get up. Dominick did really well with Apple Jack at the end.

Pinochle won the first autumn special handily and well, like the good horse he is. Ohnet grade a race of it all the way.
Gotobed looked like a contender, but could not untrack himself. Both Van Dusen and Woods seemed to be looking for him to come along. He was like the letter that she longed for. Van Dusen had to drive Pinochle down the boulevard, and a pretty mess he did make of it. He went to the bat, let go the reins, quit batting, grabbed the reins, let them go again, batted again. All this time the horse was running like a drunken man on skates.
But J. T. Woods had a weary mount in Ohnet, and could not drag her along. Van Dusen almost threw the race away through his able-seaman ride. Finally McGinn got Gotobed out of bed and made him move, but too late. The horse needs a wicked, hustling boy on him.

but too late. The horse needs a wicked, hustling boy on him.

When the bugle blew for the first race one would think that Master of the Foxhounds Bratton had unleashed his pack of sixty dogs on the track. It was a swell lot of St. Bernards. Miss Whitney, who awards bench show readals to doze of sixty dogs on the track. It was a sweat lot of St. Bernards. Miss Whitney, who awards bench show medals to dogs of that breed, should have taken Judge Mur phy's position in the stand. As they passed the clubhouse turn the cats ran hissing-up the fences, and their talls grew thick as Fred Cook's bankroll. Irls was the best Fred Cook's bankroll. Irls was the best as Fred Cook's bankroll. Iris was the best of the bunch and won handily, with the entire pack driving after her for feed money. The ride that Corner gave Eleanor Holmes was enough to get him shot. A match race between Lee Bruno and Aunt Mary, four-mile heats, welter weight, with Corner and R. Smith up would be a card for your life. for your life.

A fine crowd was out, and the sport was mighty interesting and enjoyable.

LAST DAY AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

Voter Ran a Very Fast Seven Fur-longs With Weight Up. New York, Aug. 8.—The midsummer meeting of the Brighton Beach Racing Associaing of the Brighton Beach Racing Association came to an end to-day, and followers of the sport in the metropolitan district must take an enforced vacation of two weeks, or go to Saratoga. One favorite and five second choices were first to the wire. The Jamaica Stakes was the only fixture, and only two faced the starter, Voter, at 1 to 10, and Firearm, at 3 to 1. It was only an exercise gallop for the former. He led all the way and won pulled up by ten lengths in 1:25 4-5, a new track record, and close to the world's record. He carried 128 pounds and could easily have made new figures if Spencer had ridden him out.

Mars Chan took the steeplechase, Governor Budd made the running to the last Mars Chan took the steeplechase. Governor Budd made the running to the last jump, but Mars Chan had most in reserve and won cleverly. Heliobas took up 132 pounds and won the handicap. Rikki Tikki Tavl made the running to the stretch, when there was a general closing, and, in a hard drive, Heliobas got up in time to beat Musette a head. Summary:

First race, one mile-Smoke, 191 (Henry), 7 to 5 and 1 to 2, second; Big Gun, 193 (J. Slack), 5 to 1 and 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:00-2-5. Candling, whether and Magic Light also ran.

FINE PROFIT IN NATURAL GAS. Backers of That Horse Got 20 to 1 for Their Money at Harlem.

Chleago, Aug. 8.—Natural Gas upset the talent in the first in a re it Harlem to-day. She showed a wonderful burst of speed and beat out Reina Dee Cella, after the latter find beat out Relna Dee Cella, after the latter had an advantage of four lengths in the stretch. Natural Gas was 20 to 1, opening at 15, and the backers cashed but few bets on the race. Ellis Glenn, on her last showing, was made the favorite at 11 to 5, and Eldred the second choice, at 4 to 1. Neither finished inside the money. An accident happened in the second race which may ruin the good horse Doctor Walmsiey for life. Winkheld, who rode him, was crowded into the fence on the far turn, and when he pulled up last at the finish his mount was very lame. An examination showed that two of the horse's ribs were broken and his side badly lacerated. Summary: ribs were broken and his side badly lacerated. Summary:
First race, nine-dixteenths of a mile—Natural Gas, 162 (L. Rose), 29 to I, won; Reina Del Cella, 164 (Bassinger), 12 to I, second; Tootsie Green, 115 (Dean), 15 to I, third. Time, 155. 11 Through in Spite of Judges.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. S.—The Judges located what they believed to be a job to allow Ace to win, after manipulating the pools in the 2.66 race at Fort V— today, and the resulting incidents furnished the sensation of the third day of the Grant Circuit sport in the early pools Ace and India sold at $50 each in pools, in which the rest of the field aggregated $25. Free Bond took the first heat in 2:14, but Acc continued to sell favorite over the field in pools of $25 to $17. The judges' suspicions being aroused by the slow time, they declared heat bets off for the opening heat. Indiana came to the front in the second heat in much improved time—2.65%. The third heat went to Ace in 2:10, Free Bond, who was close up in the 2:06% heat, which Indiana won, being far back, third. The judges were now theroughly aroused, and they again declated heat bets off, and when the horses scored for the fourth heat pulled Miller out of Free Bond's suiky and replaced him by W. B. McDonaid. Ace still sold favorite and, although McDonaid sent Free Bond right off in front, Ace outpaced him in the stretch, and won easily in 2:10. Ace then took the winning heat. The judges seemed settled in their determination that there was jobbing, for they declared off all betting on the general result, and fined Driver Miller $150, and Kinney, Kenny, McEwen and McCarthy $50 each, Summary:

NOTES OF THE QUARTERSTRETCH. J. Woods's Victories Were Due to Good Riding and Good Luck.

Jockey J. Woods, the senior of the riding gave Miss Holmes a rotten ride. Corner night be all right way down upon the "Su-wance Ribber" doing an eighteen-nour stunt in the cotton fields, but on the well-bred shoulders of a race horse he is as much out of place as a hog at a welding.

Though they say that Birdle Stone canno run on a fast track, she liked well in the dust yesterday with Corner on her. Chorus Boy and George W. Jenkins were backed a bit in their races, but neither showed speed worth a cent.

horse is one of the few big Firates of Pen-tance you see. He was just full of go, right on edge, and if Laureate had gotten through on the rail it is no cinch that Maluy would not have won anyhow.

Bridgeton's finish was one of the star events of the meeting. Mr. Hurns's horse seemed out of it at the quarter and had it won at the eighth. He slid through the stretch in a hurry.

Reacher, a brother to Bummer, was in the second race. Sam Adier bet $10 on him at 30 to 1, and he was cut down in a second. He showed speed for a bit, then bow.

John McElroy ran a great race in the seventh, and with capable handling might have secured the coin. He is a horse that is fast Ohnet is a good 3-year-old and has not been getting any the best of the weights. He was a very weary horse when Pinochie got to him yesterday. Many people fancied that J. T. Woods did not ride him and that Van Dusen finished well on Pinochie. It was really a case of horse and horse, as far as the riding went.

Robert, Jr., is not bred like the young man from whom he derives his name. He is not the gamest colt in the world. The late Mr. C. C. Maffitt named him for Rob-ert Auil, Jr., son of the president of the Fair Association. He gave him the name all right, but he could not give him the courage. Robert, Jr., "dogged" it yester-

The Woods prothers must watch each other in a race, or one must follow the other's judgment pretty implicitly. It is not an odd thing to see them ride right together. Twice on Tuesday they finished in order, and once Dominick split them. Twice on Saturday they finished together and on Friday Dale, Finiey and McGinn split them thrice. A glance over the dope will show that the boys have finished in order, J. T. generally leading, a lot of times. Evidently J. Woods thinks well of his brother's ability to get through a field and trails him.

Mr. Darden says that Algol has not left his stall since the day he was cut down. He has some hopes of sending the horse to the post again, however.

Crowhurst rode El Caney more than pas-sably well on Tuesday. Yet it is said that he spent all the previous night hauling home a load of peaches in a hay wagon, and that indulgence in the fruit put him up to 118 pounds at sunrise. He made 112 to ride El Caney all right, and rode him elegantly, too.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. S.—Fred Raymer, the Sloux City second baseman, about whom there has been so mach trouble, has joined the Pueblo team. Manager Glasscock complained to Presi-dent Hickey, and Earmer was sent back to Glasscock. He was released to St. Joseph, but finally secured permission to come to Pueblo. He will play to the programs and the secured presidents.

writing about him as a has-been. Including Weyhing, Hanlon has but five pitchers with him on the trip. He left Jack Dunn and Jerry Nops at home, and yesterday he malled them their releases. It is pretty tough on Dunn, His work early in the season placed Brooklyn at the head of the procession, and in doing so he lost his effectiveness. Nops has no excuses, as he has been given plenty of chances, but refuses to take care of himself. In condition, Jerry is one of the best slab workers in the business.

Dunn's dismissal recalls the fact that Hanlon is the hardest manager in the League on his pitchers. He keeps his twiriers right at it as long as they will last, and when they show the least sign of josing. when they show the least sign of losing their effectiveness they are landed their walking papers. It is worth twice as much money to pitch for Hanlon than for any other manager in the League.

McGinnity will be the next to go. The Springfield boy is a hard worker. He puts his whole heart and soul in the game, and when a contest is finished in which he has participated he is all out to the last ounce. Jay Hughes, the Californian, bad a hard season under Hanlon and positively re-fused to sign this year unless given a large increase in salary.

Dan McGann is rounding to and will be ready to play in a few days. McGann was affected by the sun. When he returned to the bench after a hard run around the bases in the first New York game he commenced to bleed from the chin. There was no sign of a sear or a scratch there, but the blood poured out as if from a fresh cut. He appeared to be all right when he left the park, but that night he became weak, and that the public demands two umpires, and that the League will have to accede to the demand. However, he predicts that two um-pires will make just twice as many mis-takes as one.

Manager Clarke of the Pittsburg team says that Dick Cooley will not be released. Evidently Clarke considers him a good man to have on the bench in order to keep the other players of the team moving.

The Eastern baseball clubs now being on their third trip West, and the Western clubs just returning from their second hos-pitable reception in the East, an analysis of the work done in the sectional series is of the work done in the sectional series is in order and interesting.

On the first trip West by the Eastern clubs the West won a bare majority, twenty-seven out of fifty-one. On the second trip West by the Easterners the West did much better, winning thirty-eight out of fifty-four. The history of the third trip is now being made.

On the first trip East by the Western clubs the East won thirty-seven out of

On the first trip East by the Western clubs, the East won thirty-seven out of fifty-three. This was a much better showing for the Eastern clubs than the West's first showing at home. On the second trip, just finished, the East won thirty, lost eleven and tied two. This is only a shade better than the West did while receiving the East the second time. The percentage of games won for the West at home on the second series was .704 and the East's percentage in this second-at-home series was .732.

centage in this second-at-home series was .732. Chicago had the best record at home for each series for the West, and Boston had the best the first time in the East, and New York in the second series. If the West continues the at-home improvement the record at the close of this present series will see a closer race and narrower margin of lead, with the possibility of a Western club pushing the leader.

The following table shows the record made by each club in the sectional series just finished in the East.

latter were defeated in one of the most exciting matches of the tournament. The inability of the Californians to kill the lobs that the Larneds sent high over the net placed them at a disadvantage. They were able to make up for this in a partial way, however, by the perfection of their place shots and speedy drives for passes. In the first set the Larneds gained a distinct lead, and took the set at 6-3. Again in the second set the Hardys fell behind. With the score at 4-2, they made a ratiy and by winning four straight games took the set. The play of the deciding se was spectacular in its brilliancy. By clever work, the veteran Larned forged ahead his younger brother, giving strong assistance, and the team work of the pair was phenomenal. But the Pacific Coast champions had struck their gait, and by making a pluck uphill fight, finally won the match. The Princeton team—Ray Little and Fred Alexander—went all to pleces before the aggressive tactics of the Wrenn brothers.

The scores follow:

AGAINST SUNDAY BASEBALL. Ministers of Texarkana Inaugurate s

Vigorous Crusade. REPUBLIC SPECIAL. REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Texarkana, Tex., Aug. 8.—There has been considerable opposition filed of late by the Protestant ministers of this city against Sunday baseball games. The laws of Texas do not prohibit such amusements on Sunday and full advantage was taken of this fact by the ball enthusiasts throughout this season. The result has been that large crowds have left their homes for the ball parks each Sunday afternoon and very much of an excitement has prevailed over the city. much of an excitement has prevailed over the city.

The ministers of the different Protestant churches appealed to the Mayor for a remedy, but were advised of the law's attitude on the matter. They then resolved upon a religious crusade and are resorting to the full extent of their influence upon their different congregations to keep the young folks from attending the ball games and appealing to the business men to help check the stampede, thus hoping to demoralize the amusement by reducing the attendance.

BOOKMAKERS ARE LEARY.

Have Reduced Odds on Bryan From Four to One to Five to Two.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 8.—George Wheelock of St. Louis, president of the Bookmakers' Club of New York, says there has been a decided change in the presidential election betting in favor of Bryan. Thirty days ago the betting was 4 to 1 on McKinley, Wheelock himself backed McKinley at 3 to 1.

Last night a Tammany man flashed a "roil" of $5,000 and announced that he wanted to bet the money on Bryan at the odds theretofore quoted by Wheelock and other bookmakers.

"Five to two is the price now," said Wheelock. He would not take the bet himself, but the Tammany man was accommodated by another member of the Metropolitan Turf Association, which is the title of the bookmakers' club.
